

Contact: Kristin Cutler, Director of Communications media@indianapolissymphony.org, 317.229.7082

Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra Continues Popular Lunch Break Concert Series

ISO Music Director Krzysztof Urbański Conducts his First Lunch Break concert to open the 2017 Series

April 20, 2017 – Grab your lunch and head to the Hilbert Circle Theatre – the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra's Fifth Third Bank Lunch Break Series is back for a fourth year of summer concerts.

For only $5 a ticket, you can take a break from the work day or bring your family to see the ISO live in concert. Our Lunch Break concerts are an informal opportunity to hear classical favorites; musicians even wear casual clothes to match the laid-back atmosphere. From Brahms to Beethoven, John Williams, and more, a variety of composers are featured as we highlight the versatility of the ISO in these 40-minute concerts.

On June 8, ISO Music Director Krzysztof Urbański opens the series by conducting his first-ever Lunch Break concert. There are six opportunities to bring your lunch to the theater for the ISO's popular summer tradition. All concerts begin at 12:15 p.m.

2017 ISO Lunch Break Concert Series

Thursday, June 8

Brahms' Symphony No. 2 with Music Director Krzysztof Urbański

Thursday, June 15

Beethoven's Symphony No. 5

Thursday, June 29

Patriotic Favorites from Star Spangled Symphony

Friday, July 7

Classically Romantic

Thursday, July 13

Music of John Williams

Thursday, July 20

Dvořák's Symphony No. 8

The Fifth Third Bank Lunch Break Series is also supported by a generous grant from the Efroymsen Family Fund. Tickets may be purchased beginning April 24 by calling the ISO Box Office at (317) 639-4300 or visiting IndianapolisSymphony.org. Tickets also will be available at the Box Office on show dates.

###